The ISA Journey of Our School (Primary Wing)

The journey to British Council International School Award had been full of hurdles, hopes, thrills and challenges, The primary wing conducted two milestone activities- 'Man-Made Wonders' and 'Treasure in My Piggy Bank', expanding the scope of regular studies.

MILESTONE 1: In the beginning, we were quite enthusiastic to find a partnerschool in Canada for our Piggy Bank activity, but seeing unanswered e-mails was very depressing. At the same time, the hope was revived when we got unexpected offers for collaboration in activity 'Man-Made Wonders', which was not planned to be a collaborative activity. But we decided to not let this opportunity pass us by and shook hands with schools in Egypt and Nigeria. Creating eye-catching bulletin boards for walk-in-corridor activity, exchanging students' scrap-books and discovering facts about Kano city Wall were the highlights for this activity. Not only did we cultivate a global citizenship among the students, but hopefully also built a long term academic relationship with our partner schools abroad.

MILESTONE 2 : The process of continuing collaboration with the Canadian school was tough, due to difference in academic calendars.

The activity was enriching and students from both schools learnt through a variety of study-aids like Power-Point presentations, self-crafted currencies and display on bulletin boards. Exchanges from the Canadian school were informative and interesting, bringing fresh earnestness to learn among students and teachers alike.

THE PATH AHEAD: The British Council ISA journey has enriched our knowledge and experience. Collecting feedbacks, other evidences and filing of report was no doubt a lengthy process, but it added to our skills in record management and project presentation. It was delightful to discover that our teaching techniques were at par with those used in countries like Canada. Our teachers and students expanded the horizons of their teaching and learning beyond national borders, discovering globalized education. As ISA co-ordinator of primary wing I am grateful to British Council for the opportunity and appreciation, as these lessons and insights will keep shaping our projects to come.
