Dear Students!

“Learning isn’t done to you; it’s something you do to yourself.”

Heartiest Congratulations on successfully meeting the target you had set for yourself. As you look back and see how much you learnt and evolved during the last academic year, you must really feel proud of yourself. In this ever evolving, ever expanding universe there is infinite scope of learning and this new academic session welcomes you with many novel opportunities for learning. All your dreams can come true if you have the courage to pursue them. It is only up to you to make or break your life. You are your best friend and you are your worst enemy. It all depends on what you choose and how you act. Your parents and teachers will walk by you as you tread upon your path towards success. They will provide all the help you need but the real stride is to be taken by YOU only.

So, with all my best wishes, set new goals for yourself and strive sincerely for achieving your aim.
